MATTERS OF INTEREST TO SENIORS IN JEFFERSON COUNTY

OCTOBER 2018

Confused about Medicare? SHIP Has the Answers.

Medicare can be complicated, but we can help. The Alabama State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) is a program of United Way's Area Agency on Aging (UWAAA) of Jefferson County. SHIP provides free information and unbiased assistance to Medicare beneficiaries, their families and caregivers. Our Medicare experts' goal is to help you better understand the benefits you're entitled to and which coverage options are best for you based on your specific circumstances.

Call 1-800-AGE-LINE to schedule your Medicare review.

If you have questions about Medicare, call us at 1-800-AGE-LINE (1-800-243-5463) to speak to a Certified SHIP counselor. Or better yet, make an appointment to sit down face-to-face with an expert, sort through your coverage and make sure you have the plan that fits your needs and budget.

SHIP's Open Enrollment Events Are Here for Your Convenience

Medicare Open Enrollment is October 15th through December 7th. That means it's time to prepare to sign up for Medicare (if you never have before) or be thinking about any adjustments you need to make to your current coverage if your personal situation has recently changed – or if you're just not sure you have the benefits you really need.

To make signing up or changes as easy as possible, SHIP is holding a series of nine public events throughout

Open Enrollment is October 15th to December 7th.

Jefferson County. Please register by clicking here and choosing the event you'd like to attend.

Then just come to that location during the designated times and a Medicare expert will be there to help.

What to Bring: Medicare cards (Red, White and Blue); Social Security card; proof of gross monthly income (letter from Social Security or current pay stub); list of medications by name and daily dosage and quantity.

SHIP Volunteers Shed Light on Medicare

Every month, hundreds of seniors in Jefferson County receive guidance on their Medicare benefits through UWAAA's SHIP program. Handling all those calls, questions and appointments is possible only with the help of dedicated volunteers, all of whom have completed training and certification in order to advise clients on their healthcare options.

One such volunteer is Amy Allon, who has been working with SHIP every Thursday for the past year and a half. While helping seniors as a social worker for 17 years, and while working at UAB Geriatric Clinic, Ms. Allon saw how complicated Medicare can be. So when she learned about volunteer opportunities with SHIP, she realized that making Medicare easier to understand would be a great way to help others.

While there are countless details to deal with, Ms. Allon identified three basic issues that many people are not clear about when it comes to Medicare:

1. A person is eligible for Medicare at age 65, and can enroll three months before, after or on his or her birthday.
2. Many people don't know that you're required to sign up for Medicare Parts A, B, C and D.
3. Open Enrollment is not just for signing up, but also for making changes to the plan you already have.

As a SHIP volunteer, Ms. Allon's role is to help clients understand and choose the healthcare options that are best for them – based on their individual circumstances. She said that last year during Open Enrollment, for example, she helped a man who had previously chosen a particular Medicare plan simply because that was the one that other people had selected. But by asking the right questions and understanding the options available, Ms. Allon was able to help him save $600 with a plan that better fit his needs!

Support Groups Can Help You Manage the Stress of Helping Others

The responsibility of caring for someone who is dependent on you comes with a lot of pressure. Even if you're good-natured enough to just roll with the punches, the demands on your personal time and patience can eventually wear you down. That's why UWAAA's Alabama Cares program offers two types of moderated support groups: one for caregivers of family members or friends and another for grandparents who are responsible for raising their grandchildren.

Family caregivers and grandparents find help by talking through their troubling issues.

These two groups meet once a month at United Way of Central Alabama, where participants share their questions, problems and frustrations with others who can identify with the same types of issues. By openly, but confidentially, talking through these matters, participants often find constructive suggestions, solutions and reassurance. To learn more about both of these Alabama Cares support groups, please click here or call 1-800-AGE-LINE (1-800-243-5463).
